WHEREAS all people and communities, both rural and urban, depend on the same land, soil, water and air to sustain life;

WHEREAS the concentration of land into mega-farms hurts stewardship of the land, water and natural world;

WHEREAS our health is connected to the health of the soil, the wellbeing of the land and the way we grow food;

WHEREAS making it economically possible and beneficial to care for the land will help create healthy communities and food, support more profitable farmers, and have environmental and economic benefits for all of Minnesota;

BE IT RESOLVED: that the Republican party pursue policies that result in more farmers on the land raising both crops and livestock, and that support and encourage farmers to build soil, protect clean water and prevent erosion.
