

Above, Below & Cattle: the ABCs of soil health and profitability

Tuesday, February 13 9:00 a.m. - 2:00 p.m.
Reinig Toledo Civic Center, 1007 S. Prospect Drive, Toledo IA

Speakers:

- Jay Young, Kansas farmer, cattleman, cover cropper and YouTuber will share his journey into regenerative agriculture. Jay is eager to pass along his experience in using cover crops and compost extract to improve soil health and save money on crop and livestock inputs.
- Denise Schwab, NE Iowa Beef Field Specialist and co-leader of the Beef Team with ISU Extension & Outreach. Denise helps guide beef programming statewide and has been instrumental in forage/grazing and emerging producers education.
- Adam Nechanicky, Tama County farmer, livestock producer and cover cropper. Adam has proven an incredible local resource in peer mentoring in soil conservation, water quality, and utilizing cover crops in livestock management.

A complimentary lunch will be provided.

An RSVP is required for this free event.

Call 641-484-2702, ext. 305 or email melody.bro@ia.nacdnet.net
by Monday, February 5

Persons with disabilities who require accommodations to participate in this event should contact Stacie Buhr at 641-484-2702, ext. 3 or dial 7-1-1 to access telecommunication relay services at least 48 hours prior to the event.

Sponsored by Tama Soil & Water Conservation District and State Bank of Toledo. Tama Soil & Water Conservation District operates in cooperation with the USDA Natural Resources Conservation Service and the Iowa Department of Agriculture and Land Stewardship. All programs and services are offered on a nondiscriminatory basis without regard to race, color, national origin, religion, sex, age, marital status, or handicap. USDA is an equal opportunity employer, provider, and lender. USDA programs are available to all without regard to race, color, national origin, religion, sex, or disability.