

2021-22 ORGANIZING & SOCIAL CHANGE COHORT

Join this five-month training series to:

- Deepen your understanding of power and how we can dismantle systems of oppression.
- Identify your own motivations and what holds you back from building the collective power needed to accomplish our shared vision.
- Build the skills needed to have meaningful conversations with your neighbors, family, and friends to understand their values and motivations and move them on issues.
- Create ways to change the story about the challenges our communities are facing.
- Grow the organizing skills to challenge corporate power and systems of oppression to win positive change for people and the land.
- Unite as leaders through strategic issue campaigns to advance solutions to transform our farm and food system, economy, and communities.
- Join a growing network of Land Stewardship Project member leaders across the Upper Midwest.
